Council Meeting

At the regular meeting of the council held last Thursday night a considerable amount of work was put through. All members of the council were present. The minutes of the last regular meeting and also the results of nominations covering vacancies both on the council and on the school board were read and adopted. Under the head of correspondence that dealing with natural gas was after some discussion laid on the table and the solicitor asked to have copies of the same prepared for each of the councillors, to enable them to study it at a more convenient time before accepting.

Inspector Tucker was present on behalf of the Curling Club, to take up the question of water supply with the town, after a short discussion it was moved and seconded by Councilors James and Price, that a charge of $15 be placed for the season, which met with the approval of the council and was passed.

R. E. Moffatt was present to dispose of the Cook Electric Light supply, and the proposition was turned over to the Light committee to be dealt with.

Certain work in the electrical department has piled up, and it was considered that too many duties were falling upon Engineer Mackenzie who has lately been attending to this case of work together with the duties of engineer at the power house. This being the case, it was moved by Councilor Holmes and seconded by Councilor James, that an electrical engineer be appointed to assume duty on the first of the new year. This was carried and the secretary instructed to notify Mr. Mackenzie to that effect.

The J. A. represented by their attorney, Mr. W. K. Cook, introduced the council to the business rights of the town, also as to arrange-ments for doing business in the coming year. After considerable discussion it was moved and seconded that a committee composed of the Mayor, Councilors Holmes and the secretary, Mr. Simpson, be appointed to meet representatives of the Union and come to an agreement understanding. The needs of a factory, which was brought up, and the recent use of the present one as a fire warehouse, was stated as a fair example of what could and could not be done with. This matter was thought to need immediate attention, and the proper committee was instructed to furnish a plan for its purposes, which will be presented at the next meeting. It was given to have the present warehouse blown at the hours of 6 a.m., 7 a.m., and 8 p.m.

Coming to shortage of meters, the secretary was instructed to order a supply. The council then adjourned in the regular form.

Well-Known Company Coming

Announcement is made of the engagement in Clareholm for two nights starting Wednesday, December 20th, of the well known Eckhardt Company, headed by the clever New York comedian, Mr. Oliver J. Eckhardt. This company is well known throughout Canada, in the larger cities, and their visit here promises local theatre goes the dramatic road of the season. Two new eastern comedy successes will be presented here complete with special scenery, costumes, etc., opening Wednesday evening with the late New York comedy success, "Browns In Town," followed Thursday evening with "A Bachelors Romance," the famous romantic society comedy, the play that made Sol Smith Russell's fame. Perhaps the best recommendation that can be given this attraction is to mention the fact that they have played four return engagements in Regina and Saskatoon this season, their frequent returns to those cities, besides others should be sufficient guarantee of their merit. Manager Munn personally conducted the Eckhardt Company is the strongest personal attraction he has booked this season. Reserved seats can be secured at Medical Hall, prices 25c, 50c, and $1.00.

Anniversary Supper

The seventh anniversary supper and entertainment of the Presbyterian church was held Monday evening by the ladies aid, in the L.O.O.F. Hall and to say that it was a success would be stating it mildly. From the hour of 5:30 to after 8 o'clock the tables were lined with a jolly, social crowd who, if actions speak truly, had evidently been waiting for the chicken pie supper for some time. For a while it looked as if the ladies had underestimated the eating capacity of our residents, but there was plenty and to spare. "Oh you chicken pie" seemed to be the motto, and the way it disappeared, showed that it was a favorite dish with all. After the supper was over, the tables were cleared and the large crowd seated to enjoy the entertainment provided for by local talent, assisted by Miss Simpson of Calgary and Miss Collard of Nanton. The chairman, Mr. C. J. Braren, opened the programme with a few well-chosen remarks and welcomed the large audience on behalf of the church. The programme was as follows:

Chairman's Address C. J. Braren
Prize Solo Miss Henschel
Song Miss Simpson, (Calgary)
Reading Miss Collard, (Nanton)
Song Mr. Cornthwaite
Prize Solo Mr. R. J. Holden
Song Mr. Fisher
Song Mrs. (D.) Stevens
Address Rev. A. O. Patterson
(Grammar)
Song Miss Collard
Reading Mr. Cornthwaite
Song Mr. Cornthwaite
Song Miss Simpson
Reading Miss Collard

The different parts were well rendered, and showed that in the Clareholm talent, Clareholm has no need of fear. Especial mention should be made of the readings delivered by Miss Collard of Nanton, who showed great natural ability along this line both parts being difficult ones, and rendered in a manner which, united with the submission of the audience, gave an address of some length and in a humorous vein, which was enjoyed by all, and Mr. Bishop's reading, in fact a good deal of applause. The solo by Mrs. B. E. Stevens, was rendered in her usual good way as were those sung by Miss Simpson, formerly of Clareholm. Mr. Cornthwaite rendered a couple which, further added to the enjoyable evening, and the entertainment closed with "God Save the King."

Olmstead-Nowlin

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nowlin at 1:30 p.m. Nov. 30th, 1911, a very pretty wedding took place, when Mr. Ray Olmstead and Miss Marie Nowlin were united in holy matrimony. Rev. E. A. Olmstead, of Black Spring Ridge, performed the ceremony. The bride looked very nice, when given away by her father, being dressed in a neat gown of light blue silk. The bridegroom was dressed in a very neat dark suit. Mr. Deansore, the Star Letter school teacher, and Miss Zylpha Nowlin, sister of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Cordelia Olmstead acted as supporters. Shortly after the knot was so quickly tied, about forty-one guests sat down to a well spread table, prepared by Mrs. Nowlin. The young couple was presented with many pretty and valuable presents, for which the groom in a few well chosen words thanked the givers of the same. Their many friends wish them a long and happy wedded life. Com.

Whitney Carried Ontario But Majority Was Reduced

Toronto, Dec. 11.—The Toronto provincial elections today resulted in the return of the administration of Sir James Whitney, with a slightly reduced but still representative majority of the members of the Legislature. The standing of the parties, which in the last house was: 87 Conservatives, 18 Liberals, and 1 Independent, with in the next Legislature 82 Conservatives, 23 Liberals and 1 Independent, giving Sir James a safe majority of 58 over his Liberal and Independent opponents in a total of 113 seats as compared with a majority of 65 in the last house. The most important issue in the campaign was the question of bilingual schools, but both parties handled it with caution and its only visible effect was in the two strongly French ridings of Sturgeon Falls and Prescott, where the Conservative candidates were defeated.

The Liberal gain of 11, in all, comprised the following ridings: Centre Brant, Georgetown, East Middlesex, Meaford, North Norfolk, South Ontario, Prescott, Sturgeon Falls, East Wellington, and North Wentworth.

The six Conservative gains were: East Ontario, North Perth, East Simcoe, Stormont, West Wellington and South Wentworth.

Practically all the Liberal gains were registered in constituencies which previous to the Conservative landslide of 1905 had been strongly Liberal, while of the eleven, Meaford, South Ontario and Prescott, were held by members of the former Liberal government.

The Conservative victory in Ottawa East was due to the Napoleon, Champlain, a French Canadian, who had played a prominent part for years in municipal affairs.

Another Conservative victory was in South Perth, where Hon. Mr. Macdonald was beaten three years ago.

In East Simcoe, the Liberals have been losing ground and the new candidate, who succeeded the former incumbent, J. B. Todd, could not hold the riding.

In West Wellington the Liberal representative, Jas. Ewing, was prevented from canvassing by a serious illness.

The premier and the members of his cabinet who went to the polls, were all returned by handsome majorities, they being Mr. Beattie, Hon. J. J. Fox, Hon. W. J. Hanna, Hon. D. P. McLean, I. B. Lucas and Hon. J. S. Hendrie. Four other ministers, Hon. W. H. Hearst, Hon. A. J. Macdonald, Hon. J. S. Duff and Hon. Adam Beck, had previously been returned by acclamation, as had thirteen private members on the Conservative side of the house.

THE LEADERS ELECTED

Hon. R. W. Ross, K. C., the new leader of the Liberal party, and Hon. A. G. McKay, the former leader, were elected by substantial majorities in their respective ridings. North Oxford and North Grey, Adam Beck, the only Independent member who has sat in the legislature since the days when the patronage industry was a factor in politics, was elected on the Liberal ticket for the third time, in East Hamilton.

The other Independent candidates who ran as Socialists, Labor men, or temperance men, made no showing, the Toronto Independents polling very small votes.

A VERY LIGHT VOTE

Toronto, as usual, went strongly Conservative, returning all its eight members to support James Whitney, as in the previous election. The only doubtful contest was for seat "B" in North Toronto, where Hon. J. J. Fox, who formerly sat for South Toronto, was opposed by Joseph O'Brien, a strong Liberal, and former mayor. Mr. Fox held a majority of over 500. The total vote registered was very light as a rule, partly due to the unfavorable weather, which prevailed over the province, and partly to a lack of interest displayed by the public, as the general result was regarded largely as a foregone conclusion.

The Reward of Thrift

"There is nothing more admirable than thrift, and there is nothing more pitiable than when the accumulations of thrift are pocketed by the rapacious harpies who prey upon the small investor," says the Economist (Engl.)

It is therefore not only desirable, but it is absolutely necessary that we should have some plan of investment under which we may be putting aside from week to week or month to month a portion of our earnings in the provision against the "Rainy Days" and this plan is afforded by the Canadian Government's Annuities Act, which was approved by Members of both Houses of Parliament.

The benefits to be derived from the purchase of a Government Annuity as a means of making provision for old age, or it may be said, for most hopeful than those which may be derived from any other safe investment, and far greater than the people have any idea of, simply for the reason that with every payment of Annuity is returned a portion of the purchase money together with compound interest at 4 per cent. If the Annuity lives the average number of years he may be expected to live according to mortality experience, he will receive back all that he paid in as well as the interest thereon. But this is not all, for should he survive this expectation the Annuity will not cease, but go on until his death. It seems paradoxical that a man can use his principal without his income becoming less, but this is made possible under the Annuities System.

The age of five is the earliest age at which payments for the purchase of an Annuity may be begun, and the age of 55 has been fixed as the earliest age at which, except for invalidity or disability, an Annuity may begin, but the longer it is deferred the larger, of course, will be the amount received. For example, the payment of $1 a week by a man of 25 until he is 55 would give him an Annuity from the latter age of $258.28, payable quarterly, while if he continued paying until he was 60, his Annuity would be $357.36. In either case, if he died before the date fixed for the Annuity to begin all his payments with compound interest at 4 per cent would be refunded to his legal representative. For a slightly increased payment the Annuity would be guaranteed for 10 years certain, or for life whichever should be the longer. Persons should apply for information in regard to this most provident system of saving—a system which, if adopted, will bring as its reward an old age of Comfort, Happiness and Dignity. Literature descriptive of its features, and tables showing the cost on different plans, may be obtained at the Post Office or on application to the Superintendent of Annuities, Ottawa, to whom letters go free of postage.

Public Guarantee

We are authorized by the publishers to guarantee that every person who, during the month of December, next, year's subscription to The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, will receive a copy of their valuable premium picture, entitled "Home Again." The Family Herald and Weekly Star's subscription receipts in November were 60 per cent, over November, 1910, almost entirely owing to all who have seen it to be the best premium ever given with a newspaper. Those who fail to secure a copy will have themselves to blame. The Family Herald and Weekly Star and such a beautiful picture all for one dollar is such rare value that no person can afford to miss it. The picture is given both in renewal and new subscribers.

Unique Railroad Houp

Citizens of Estevicville, Alta., Board G. T. P. Train in Regulation Outlook Style

Estevicville, Alta., Final and satisfactory adjustment of the recent differences arising between the Railway Commissioners and local officials of the Grand Trunk Pacific at this place appears now to be assured through the energetic action of a committee of determined citizens, who are to day making an effort to keep the facts from publication. Upon the refusal of the G. T. P. train crews to obey the recent order of the Commissioners to make the regular stops at Estevicville as well as at the suburban station a mile and a quarter outside the town, the committee mentioned organized a night party with red lanterns, boarded the train in true outlook style and after paying the fare of 20 cents per head as demanded by the conductor for their few minutes ride of a mile and a quarter to the suburban station and proceeded to advertise the situation to the train's passengers.

It had been the plan of the "hold up" committee, in case the train crew should not agree to their wishes, to go to Edmonton and board the Division Superintendent within a formal demand for explanation as to his reasons for failure to comply with the order of the Railway Commissioners.

This proved unnecessary as the Superintendent was on board, and was also witty, stating to the committee the next morning, in no mild language, that stopping a train was a peevish and offence, and that action on that ground had already been commenced.

The committee advised the Superintendent to go ahead with the action, as that was just the kind of publicity they were looking for. Finding his efforts, as well as his bluff tactics, the Superintendent ordered the train stopped at Estevicville and even became so docile as to promise regular stops at this station in future.

A monster petition of Estevicville citizens is now being prepared with a view to bringing the G. T. P. officials into a closer understanding of up-to-date hold-up methods when favorite rights are called in question. As there was no hoarding in this instance, it is generally believed that the Estevicville outlaws will not be immediately presented for their determined undertaking as a red lantern organization.

The Forum

Clareholm, Dec. 12th, 1911
C. J. Duncan, Esq.,
Toronto.

Dear Mr. Duncan: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of a letter signed by you on behalf of the citizens of Clareholm, containing a purse of money from said citizens, expressing appreciation of my work in Clareholm, and generously wishing me a speedy recovery.

I wish through you to thank the citizens for this very tangible expression of esteem. I had hoped to finance myself unaided by outside assistance through this sickness; but your gift will make the difference, and I know it all proceeded from the kindness of your hearts, and your only desire was to hold out a helping hand to one in adversity.

If my health is restored I hope to come again to Clareholm, and keep alive associations of a pleasant three years.

I sincerely thank you all for the purse of money, but more for the large and generous sympathy behind your action.

Very Sincerely,
Hugh W. Brownlee.

Annual Meeting of Agricultural Society

The annual meeting of the Agricultural Society was held on the 6th of December, and was attended by about 20 members. Mr. F. W. Elliott the first Vice-President took the chair and opened the meeting. The secretary in giving the reports of the year, referred to the satisfactory conditions of the Agricultural grounds which were now fully equipped with exhibition buildings, and only requiring additional stable room. The financial statement was read and approved. There was considerable discussion regarding the fee fixed in the past for entry of exhibits and the feeling seemed to be that this should be increased.

The election of officers for the coming year was as follows: President, F. W. Elliott; 1st Vice-President, A. E. Hunter; 2nd Vice-President, D. B. Vaudin; 15 Directors, Jas. Price, R. E. Dinsell, F. R. Slip, J. Robertson, David Williams, James, J. Weidman, Fred Bayton, W. R. Lindsay, O. J. Berg, E. T. Ferguson, John Nelson, Leo Elgin, J. O. White, J. R. Watt and W. T. Rigby. Mr. J. R. Watt was re-elected as Secretary-Treasurer.

It was thought that the annual Fair should be held about the same time as this year, following the one at Macleod. The meeting was very enthusiastic and all the members look forward to the 1912 Fair as being a very successful one.

Goldie-Honey

A very pretty event took place on Thursday afternoon, December 14th, 1911, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Honey, Clareholm, Alta., when their eldest daughter Miss M. G. Honey was united in marriage with Mr. John Goldie, of Macleod, Alta. Only a very few of the intimate friends of the bride were present at the ceremony. After the ceremony a sumptuous repast was served, to which the guests did ample justice. Mr. and Mrs. Goldie took the six o'clock train for Calgary, Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, and other centers of interest in the west and south.

King Kept Busy

Delhi, India, Dec. 11. King George has had a busy time since his arrival in camp, for there has been a succession of ceremonies during the past three days. More than 1,300 native princes have received in attendance by the king, and their visits have been returned with the king's command by the ceremony. Yesterday King George and Queen Mary received a magnificent open air church service, which was an impressive spectacle.

"Look here, Miss Polly, I've been afraid to tell you my love. I've been afraid to tell you my love. I've been afraid to tell you my love."

"Then, then?" asked Polly coquettishly.

"No, heart throb," burst Slim. "My heart is right on my throat. Well, I might as well spit it out," he thought aloud.

"Why don't you know?" "No," he said simply.

"What do you mean?" "What is it?" he insisted.

"No, if you don't know his name I will tell you," decided Polly. "Maybe it's just as well, too," he asserted Slim. "I don't think I'd feel like so friendly toward him."

Slim moved toward the wagon. The action was purely involuntary, but it frightened Polly so much that she cried aloud.

Slim grasped at once the reason for her fear. "Is the fellow in that wagon?" he shouted.

"Come out, do him any harm, would you?" cried Polly.

"Is he in that wagon?" Slim repeated angrily.

Polly caught hold of his arm. "What he didn't for?" he demanded.

brotherly. "Slim sympathized with the boy in his trouble."

"There he told me. But he loved you had your share of that money," he explained.

The boy drew the money from his pocket and handed it to Slim, remarking: "There you are—all of it. I never touched it. I was going—"

But was about to be again, but he realized the futility of more falsehoods. "Take it," he added.

Slim returned the money and slipped it into his pocket.

"But," he said to that young man, "you have been pretty good."

"And we have. I learned you how to take a rope, an' Bud—"

"What did you take for?" "I took what you didn't murder Terrell for, but what did you keep the money for?"

He asked the question with anger and annoyance. (To be continued.)

Perhaps the fact that he has been practicing for a long time, however, has something to do with the matter of his skill.

He wears extremely strong leather boots on his hind feet, and it is to these that his specially made skates are fastened.

Species Used for

Pulpwood -- 1910

Four species of wood were used to make up the six hundred thousand cords worth three million, five hundred and eighty-five thousand dollars, that were used by the pulp mills in Canada in 1910. These woods were spruce, balsam, hemlock and poplar, as ascertained by the Dominion Forestry Branch in a report soon to be published on the pulpwood consumption. The percentage of spruce which has always been the chief wood used is gradually becoming less, although still forming over three-quarters of the pulpwood consumption. In 1908, spruce contributed 87 per cent of the total; in 1909, 85 per cent; and in 1910, 78 per cent. The importance of balsam, the second species used, is increasing. In 1908, it formed 12 per cent of the total; in 1909, 16 per cent; and in 1910, 20 per cent. Another species which is rapidly becoming more important is hemlock, over five times as much being used in 1910 as in the previous years. The use of poplar fell off over one-quarter, a consumption of only three thousand, six hundred cords being reported for 1910. Spruce was the most expensive species at $6.65 per cord or 64 cents more than in 1909. During 1910 hemlock became reduced 55 cents to $5.71. Hemlock remained at about the same price for the two years and is still the cheapest species. In 1909 it was $4.51 per cord and in 1910, $4.43. Poplar has increased eleven cents during the year, the price being $5.92 in 1910. The prices of pulpwood are affected not only by the properties of different species but also by the conditions under which brought (whether in open market or on limits), and by the distance of the wood from the point of consumption.

Meat Supply Not Up

to the Demand

Ottawa, Dec. 8. - Dr. J. G. Butlerford, veterinary general, yesterday in his annual report to parliament of the health of animals branch of the department of agriculture. "It sounds a grave note of warning in the live-stock industry in the Dominion, and which incidentally throws some interesting light on one of the causes of the high cost of living so prominently before the house-holders in the past few years, that the production of meat in this country is not keeping up with the demand, that the country's meat export is diminishing and bids fair to disappear altogether. It appeared as if Canada would always have an abundant supply of live stock of all kinds, not only for her own use, but for export as well. In fact it seemed that the principal difficulty would be to find a profitable market for an ever increasing and practically limitless surplus.

Circumstances, however, have brought about a great and very serious change in the live-stock outlook. Although many of the newcomers in Western Canada live on the land, and are in some agriculturalists, few of them are devoting much time to the raising of animals. For some time therefore, the majority of these people with themselves be consumers, instead of producers, of meat, partly owing to the fact that they are going in almost entirely for the growing of wheat, but in time a gradual extinction of the kind will force these farmers to go in more for mixed farming.

Solid Support of Liberals

Edmonton, Dec. 11. - Vote in debate addressed in reply to the speech from the throne reached in Legislature shortly before midnight, and resulted in solid Liberal phalanx against amendment of Mclellan, every Liberal member in the House rallied to the support of the government, the whole standing. Liberals 32, Conservatives 6.

Harold Wiley was in Calgary, and O'Brien was not in the House at the time the vote was taken. The result was received with great applause by Liberal benches and showed that the breach in the party has at last been healed.

Government members were greatly pleased with the result. The House will now be able to get down to the business of the session, and it is expected good progress will be made before Christmas adjournment. The speech of today was delivered by Marshall, who answered resolutions which had been made against him in connection with his political life in Ontario. Mr. Marshall's reply was received with great applause by Liberals. Other speakers were Stewart, Headley, Rutherford, J. Wolf, Gunn, A. Brunley Moore, Tedford and Rutherford.

While reserving to himself the right to criticize the railway policy when he revisited greater details, Mr. Rutherford gave approval. Most of his speech dealt with work done while he was premier.

A humorous feature of the evening session was the failure of lights for more than an hour, speaking proceeded to the illumination of lanterns and when Clerk Coull took the vote he went around to the members scanning their faces with the aid of a lantern.

Actual Starvation

Facts About Indigestion and its Relief That Should Interest You

Although Indigestion and Dyspepsia are so prevalent, most people do not thoroughly understand their cause and cure. There is no reason why most people should not eat any thing they desire - if they will only chew it carefully and thoroughly. Many actually starve themselves into sickness through fear of eating every good-looking, good-smelling, and good-tasting food, because it does not agree with them.

The best thing to do is to fill your self to digest any good food.

We believe we can relieve Dyspepsia. We are so confident of this, that we guarantee and promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to every one who will use it, who is not perfectly satisfied with the results which it produces. We exact no promises, and put no one under any obligation whatever. Surely nothing could be fairer. We are located right here and our reputation should be sufficient assurance of the genuineness of our offer.

We want every one troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia in any form to come to our store and buy a box of Rexall's Dyspepsia Tablets. ### The "Guide's"

"Progress" Number

Instead of the regular Christmas number, The Grain Growers' Guide has just issued what it calls a "Progress Number." It is probably the first of its kind ever published in Western Canada. The spirit of progress permeates the entire 98 pages and is emblazoned in the beautiful three color cover design which presents one of the ancient heralds, who, mounted on a magnificent charger and crowned in the armor of the middle ages, is sounding the call of progress.

The Progress Number of The Guide contains ably written articles on the social, political and economic conditions surrounding the people of Western Canada, and it is as interesting to the city man as to the farmer and his family. A. F. Mantle, deputy minister of agriculture in Saskatchewan, writes on improved farming methods; J. A. Stevenson shows how it would benefit the farmers to have the protective tariff abolished; F. J. Dixon ably sets forth the discrimination against the farmers in the present method of collecting revenue and advocates the single tax; S. J. Farmer deals with the subject of Direct Legislation and shows how the Initiative and Referendum in the hands of the people would be of great benefit.

There are also articles dealing with the various farmers' organizations in the West, including the Grain Growers' Company and the Saskatchewan Cooperative Elevator Company. The Home Department of the "Progress Number" of the Guide is particularly strong and is full of interest for every member of the family even to the youngest. There are several articles of a religious nature with a Christmas story and also some rattling good stories to interest everyone.

The illustrations throughout the "Progress Number" of The Guide are very beautiful and attract and hold the eye as soon as the pages are opened. The editorial pages are as crisp as steel, and point out the road the farmers should follow to accomplish the desired reforms. The market pages of the "Progress Number" are as useful up-to-date and very complete. Any person who is desirous of getting into touch with the spirit of Western Canada cannot find it better set forth than in this very fine "Progress Number" of The Guide has just issued.

Notes From Noble

We were pleased to report on the last two meetings of the Noble Literary Society on Dec. 1st and Dec. 5th, respectively. On Dec. 1st the programme consisted of a debate on the following subject: Resolved: That Asiatic Immigration is injurious to the best interests of Canada. The decision given was in favor of the negative. On Dec. 5th the following programme was carried out: Song, by Four Little Girls; "The Tipi" by Rev. Simpson; Song, by Mrs. J. Thompson; The Effect of the Panama Canal, by G. L. Noble; Recitation, by Mrs. Davis. The speech by Rev. Simpson was a story of his experiences in the Peace River and Grande Prairie Country, and was very interesting. The evening's entertainment closed with the singing of "God Save the King." We were pleased to notice so many of our country folk taking an interest in our society. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Work on the C. P. R. well at Nadeau was suspended for a few days, owing to the loss of the tools down the well. Fishing apparatus has been sent for and it is hoped that work will be resumed again soon. This well is of considerable importance, as at present the trains have to carry an extra tank car.

They have a very mild, but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowels, thus increasing firmness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Recall Ordinaries are indispensable and ideal for the use of children, old folks and delicate persons. We cannot too highly recommend them to all sufferers from any form of constipation and its attendant evils. That's why we back our faith in them with our promise of money back if they do not give entire satisfaction. Three sizes: 12 tablets, 10 cents; 34 tablets, 25 cents; and 80 tablets 50 cents.
